YO, YO, YO, FAM!

As far as I can remember, I've always been a fan of the movies. I'm at my happiest when I'm inside a cold theater, munching on some noms, and watching a slick flick! My fave genres are horror, science fiction, and suspense thrillers—I enjoy the freaky stuff. I'm sure that you guys have your own cinematic picks that you geek-out to, too. The most amazeballs thing about a good movie, however, is that it allows us to escape from reality and enter a world unlike any other. With the help of your imagination (and some dope special effects), you'll suddenly be trying to outrun flesh-hungry zombies, battling intergalactic aliens, and shrieking at every jump-scare that's around that dark corner. And when the end credits start rolling, you'll want to rewatch the film all over again, natch! I'm telling y'all this because this is our MEGA MOVIE ISH! To celebrate the movies, we've prepared a butt-load of delights for all the silver screen gems that each and every KZ fan will be talking about for the rest of the year. Remember, there's magic in the movies, buds! Don't let anyone tell ya different!

GUESS WHAT? FIL-AM SUPERSTAR HAILEE STEINFELD LIKES PRANKS, FANDOMS, AND DROOL-WORTHY NOMS!

KZ: What's your advice for KZ-ers who wanna be an actor-slash-musician like you?
HS: Growing up, I kept hearing, "Don't give up!" and, "Believe in yourself!" I realize now that these are actually very important mottos. If you're doing something that you love, keep pursuing it. Work hard in order to achieve your goals.

KZ: Have you ever been pranked while filming a movie?
HS: Yes! While filming Ender's Game, our director arrived on set with a black eye and told me that he got into a fight with one of the actors. I totally fell for it!

KZ: What's your fave food?
HS: Rice, cheeseburgers, and pizza.

KZ: What's your fave Filipino dish?
HS: Chicken adobo.

KZ: What do you love about the Philippines?
HS: (I love) the people and also the weather.

KZ: What fandom do you belong in?
HS: Ooh, I love everything! I think I belong in the "All of the Above" fandom.

KZ: If you could collab with any musician, who would it be?
HS: I would love to collaborate with Meghan Trainor.

KZ: Twitter, Instagram, or Snapchat?
HS: I'm gonna go with Snapchat.

KZ: Would you rather nom on spicy chips during summer or ice cream during winter?
HS: Ice cream in the winter!

KZ: Lastly, how do you deal with the haters?
HS: I think it's very important to focus on the good things people say about you and the work that you're doing. It's important to learn to be confident and have self-love. If you love yourself, the bad things people say about you won't matter.

FINDING DORY'S FAM

REMEMBER TO SWIM IN SOME FUN BY PLAYING THIS TOTES UNFORGETTABLE FINDING DORY MEMORY GAME!

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Grab a buddy who can play the game with you.
2. Create your character cards by cutting along the broken lines.
3. Now, let's begin! Ask your friend to cover his eyes while you shuffle the cards around and place them facedown on the table or any flat surface.
4. For each turn, a player must flip over two cards and see if the characters match. They score one point for every successful match. The player can continue flipping and guessing until he gets an incorrect match. If it doesn't match, the cards must be flipped back and the other player takes his turn.
5. Bonus rule: Loser has to buy popcorn when you watch Finding Dory at the cinema.

X-TREME

HERE'S THE LOWDOWN ON THE MAJOR DIFFS BETWEEN THE X-MEN: A

READ

FOUR HORSEMEN

The original Horsemen of Apocalypse included Plague, Abraham Lincoln Kieros, Autumn Rolfson, and Angel.

PROFESSOR X

Professor X's son, Legion, traveled back in time to kill Magneto, but accidentally killed his father instead. Professor X's death altered the timeline, making Apocalypse's attack against humanity occur 10 years earlier.

X-MEN ROSTER

The X-Men team's made up of Iceman, Storm, Scarlet Witch, Jean Grey, Colossus, Wolverine, Bishop, Blink, Sabertooth, Gambit, and Rogue.

MAGNETO

Following Xavier's death, Magneto stepped up and took on the role of the X-Men's leader.

BISHOP

Bishop went back in time so he could stop Legion from killing Magneto. Doing so would've returned the timeline to its normal state—where Professor X is alive and Apocalypse is still snoozing.

X-FACTS!

APOCALYPSE FLICK AND THE COMICS!

REEL

FOUR HORSEMEN

En Sabah Nur chose Magneto, Psylocke, Storm, and Angel.

PROFESSOR X

Upon discovering the existence of Apocalypse and his evil plan with the help of Dr. Moira MacTaggert, Professor X assembled a team of X-Men to stop him.

X-MEN ROSTER

The current X-Men team is led by Cyclops, Jean Grey, Quicksilver, Mystique, Jubilee, Nightcrawler, Havok, and Beast.

MAGNETO

Magneto became one of Apocalypse's Horsemen.

BISHOP

Bishop was killed by a Sentinel in the X-Men: Days of Future Past movie, which is why he's not expected to return in this super-mutant flick. Boo-hoo!

PIZZA PANIC!

Mikey is craving for some pizza. Too bad they're in deep space and the nearest pizza parlor is five lightyears away!

THE FUGITOID SAYS:
"Space food is great–especially on my ship! Just put on this helmet and think of pizza. Think HARD. The Think-a-Food Machine will know what you want and you get instant pizza right before your very eyes!"

TRAIN DRAIN!

Raphael is itching for a training sesh but it's hard to practice ninja moves while you're floating around inside a spaceship in zero gravity!

THE FUGITOID SAYS:
"We have a training room in the ship! Let me just turn on the artificial gravity and the hologram projector. What kinda baddies do ya wanna fight? Foot Soldiers? Dogpound? Shredder? We can conjure up any opponent for you."

The Turtles can't find their way back to the ship. They'd love to ask for directions, but they don't understand alien-speak.

THE FUGITOID SAYS:
"Press the big red button on your spacesuits, Turtles! That's a speech translator. Now you can talk to these aliens with ease."

ZERO G MARATHON!

One misunderstanding leads to another, and now, Donatello finds himself running for his life from a bunch of angry aliens. He can outrun them—if only his spacesuit wasn't so bulky!

THE FUGITOID SAYS:
"Your spacesuit has rocket boosters, Donnie! Just hit that big switch near your belt and you can fly away to save your shell!"

FREEZE, PLEASE

The weather is crazy cold on this planet. Heck, ice is building up! The Turtles need to heat up the ship before they become space popsicles.

THE FUGITOID SAYS:
"We need to boot up the heater so we can melt the ice! The heater's busted, though. It needs a push to get started. Get on these treadmills so we can power it up."

NOOB TUBE

Mikey wants to catch up on all his fave T.V. shows, but he can't find a signal because they're stuck in space.

ALL ABOARD

ARE YA DONE SUITING UP? THEN IT'S TIME TO BUILD YOUR OWN DECK!

1. Stick the grip tape to the top of the deck.
2. With the help of an adult, attach the trucks to the board. Trucks are metal pieces found at the bottom of the board where the wheels are to be attached.
3. Insert two bearings into each wheel. Now, attach the wheels to the trucks with the help of an adult. Skate away, son!

*All items are available at we Legendary store located at Don Raul Bldg., Kamuning Road, Quezon City

OLLIE

Bend your knees and kick your back foot down to launch the board into the air while at the same time rubbing your front foot against the grip tape upward. Once you master executing this trick in mid-air, your skating skillz are a step closer to pro-level, bro!

NOMCORE

KAKANIN ORIGINS

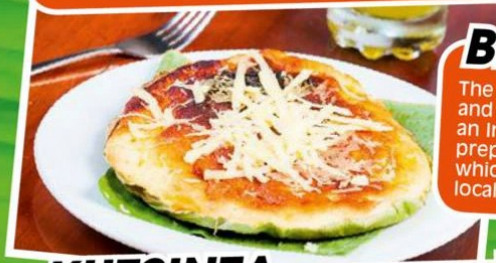
LEARN HOW THESE PINOY RICE TREATS STARTED REPPIN' IN THE DELISH DEPARTMENT.

BIKO

This yummy dessert is a mainstay in Pinoy fiestas. Biko is a mixture of sticky rice, coconut milk, and brown sugar. Btdubs, Biko is a local spin on Chinese rice cakes.

PALITAW

Litaw, meaning "to rise," refers to how you can tell if the palitaw is ready to be eaten. When the white rice cake is rising out of the pot, it's done, son! Top it off with grated coconut, sesame seeds, and sugar. Mmm...



BIBINGKA

The famous Christmas bibingka is a result of the Filipino and Chinese cultural crossover. But get this: it has an Indian counterpart called bebinca. They are both prepared by putting heat over and under the pot from which it is being cooked. But unlike the bebinca, our local versh is made with glutinous rice instead of flour.

KUTSINTA

This light-brown glutinous rice treat looks like jello! Made with ground rice, sugar, and lye, it's sprinkled with grated coconut to boost its flavor. The origin of the kutsinta remains a mystery. No one knows how it was created or what its name stands for, but there is a theory that it might have originated from pre-colonial times when the puto was also created.

PUTO

This cakey and squishy nom was originally a Chinese recipe that found its way to Philippine shores. The puto can be prepared in different ways, like the puto bumbong (purple and ube flavored), puto lasong (buttered puto), and puto Calasiao (a small white puto that is usually paired with dinuguan).

WICKED WOO

In the forest, nobody can hear you scream.

Ryan was looking forward to one heck of an adventure this weekend. After all, his parents were able to secure a good deal online for a log cabin in the middle of the forest.

The cabin's owners, Mr. and Mrs. Santos, were there to meet Ryan's family upon their arrival that morning.

"Welcome to our humble abode. Please, make yourselves at home," greeted Mr. Santos.

Behind the couple was a girl around Ryan's age who peered from behind, awkwardly greeting the fam with a wave.

"This little lady is our daughter Luna. She's a bit shy, but we hope that she can keep your son company this weekend," Mrs. Santos said as she prodded Luna to approach Ryan.

"Don't worry, ma'am. I'm sure we'll be friends in no time," Ryan replied, smiling at the shy girl.

"Great! Now excuse me while I go out and chop some wood before sunset. Dear, why don't you entertain our guests first?" Mr. Santos asked his wife before leaving them.

"We'd love to have you for dinner later, but how about a cup of tea first?" Mrs. Santos chirped as she ushered Ryan's parents inside the cabin and assisted them with their baggage. Then, she turned to Luna and said, "Why don't you kids play in the woods while we get better acquainted?"

Ryan and Luna headed into the forest where they played tag, hide-and-seek, and cops and robbers. They were having so much fun that the boy didn't realize how long they were out until he noticed it was getting dark. Suddenly, they found themselves walking deeper and deeper into the forest.

Should we be playing this far out? He wondered to himself, so he asked Luna, who merely laughed it off, telling him not to worry because she's been here plenty of times. And so the girl walked ahead, leaving Ryan to follow as they continued exploring the lush scenery.

The foul stench of animal carcasses lying by the dirt path filled their nostrils as they passed by a mound of rotten pink flesh. Ryan pinched his nose and carried on. All in the name of adventure, he thought. Suddenly, the kids encountered a deep, gaping hole in the ground. Luckily, Ryan spotted it quickly and avoided falling.

"Phew! That was close, huh?" Ryan remarked, looking down the dark hole as he turned on his flashlight. But before he could get a clearer look, he was pushed into the pit.

"Not close enough," Luna exclaimed as Ryan went tumbling down.

He landed with a thud. Before fully regaining his senses, he heard a low growl. From the shadows emerged a dog-faced creature bigger than any animal he'd ever seen before. Standing on its hind legs, the beast focused its gaze on Ryan, its yellow eyes unblinking. The monster bared its fangs as it continued growling and looking very famished.

"Settle down, pop. You'll get a bite soon," chided Luna as she calmly conversed with the savage beast then looked at a wide-eyed Ryan.

"He was scratched by a Sigbin. Now, Dad's got a craving for human flesh and transforms into this every night. He hasn't tasted human meat in months, so we're glad you paid us a visit," Luna said sweetly as she looked down at Ryan.

"Oh, will you look at the time? I'd better run back home and help prep Dad's main course. Mom's prolly captured your parents by now. Enjoy your snack, Dad!" Then without warning, the Sigbin pounced. And with a slight wave, Luna left the unwitting victim to his doom, ignoring the blood-curdling screams that immediately followed.

"Happy father's day. I did good, right?" she said to herself aloud and smiling as she skipped her way back home.

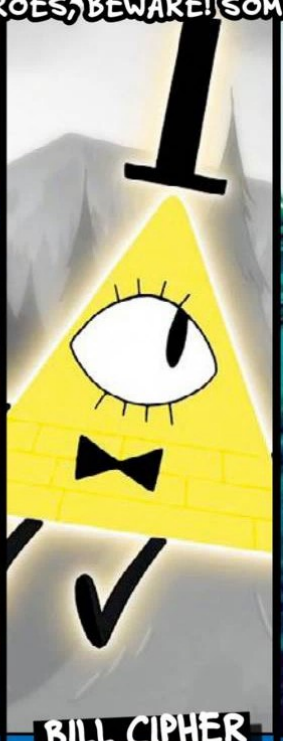
HARD BADDI

HEROES, BEWARE! SOME OF THE MEANEST, TOUGHEST,

DARKSEID

As far as villains go, Darkseid's pretty much god-tier (he is from a race called the New Gods, after all). Not content with his homeworld, Apokolips, he keeps trying to rule the Universe. No one can withstand his Omega Beams (except Supes or Doomsday, natch).

DEFEAT THIS BADDIE: Expose him to Radion. It works like Kryptonite.



BILL CIPHER

It's hard enough to defeat immortal dudes, what more an immortal dream demon? Heck, the GFalls gang even had to trick and trap him inside Stan's mind. While in there, Grunkle Stan punches Bill and stops him for good. Now, Bill's just a harmless statue, never to rise again...or will he?

DEFEAT THIS BADDIE: If Grunkle Stan could do it, anyone can do it, too! Force of will + the power of friendship + doing the unexpected (like Mabel!) = EPIC WIN!

VOLDEMORT

He wanted to live forever so bad that he made not one, not two, but six horcruxes—hey, he accidentally made one more (Wassup, Harry!). That's like, seven back-up save files, bro. But hey, if you're totes keen on being the ultimate evil wizard, it's only smart to make sure you can be around ALL. THE. TIME.

DEFEAT THIS BADDIE: There's only one rule to remember: No horcruxes = no Voldemort.

OROCHIMARU

A ninja prodigy obsessed with immortality, he developed the Living Corpse Reincarnation technique. He can rejoin his limbs, heal wounds by shedding skin, and if he's hurt real bad, he transforms into a giant white snake who'll eat you and use your body as his new shell. Yikes!

DEFEAT THIS BADDIE: Seal him using the Totsuka Blade, with the help of Itachi's Susanoo.

...ES TO BREAK

DEATH-DEFYING VILLAINS ARE HERE TO STAY!

DOOMSDAY

Comic versh Doomsday was an indestructible, unstoppable force created by repeated cloning and exposure to harsh environments (a process called "forced evolution"). This killing machine beat Superman and even kicked Darkseid's butt!

DEFEAT THIS BADDIE: Blast him off into outer space or to another dimension...or stab him with a Kryptonite blade in the chest.

THE MASTER

The Master's got the same smarts, tech, and Time Lord juju as the Doctor. This renegade immortal, however, has waaaay less regenerations (Time Lord term for rebirth) and could probably outlast his nemesis given the right circumstances. DYK? Time Lords can only regenerate 12 times.

DEFEAT THIS BADDIE: You must use up all the Master's regenerations.

APOCALYPSE

En-Sabah-Nur believed in "survival of the fittest," and through the thousands of years that he has been in existence, has proven to be top dog! This blue dude was born immortal (one of his many powers), making him uber-tough to beat every time he comes back from either sleep or defeat.

DEFEAT THIS BADDIE: Team up and send him into prolonged hibernation. He's vulnerable when he's regenerating—something he needs to do in order to sustain his immense power.

THANOS

As a Titanian Eternal, the Mad Titan's got some god-like powers, such as immense strength, durability, and of course, immortality. Mind you, this was way before he nabbed the Infinity Stones.

DEFEAT THIS BADDIE: He has no known weakness except for having a huge crush on Mistress Death—he'll drop everything just to impress her.

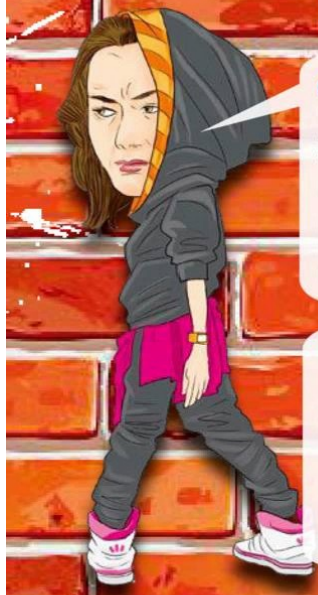
Oh, you want proof of this failure that I mention?
Heck, you rigged our very first election!
And Mabini, sure, you fought for liberation
But you just call the shots without lifting a weapon

MELCHORA "T.SO" AQUINO VERSUS GABRIELA "LADYBLITZ" SILANG



GABRIELA SILANG

Crying and sulking won't cure my sorrow
When that traitor rat betrayed my Diego
I hijacked his parade and attacked with my bolo

I am the woman, the priestess, the head of the Rebellion!

Aww, yiss!

EMILIO AGUINALDO

'Tonio scares his men with his epic temper

Heck, even Rizal thinks your bro Manuel is way better

APOLINARIO MABINI

You, the great general with the funky nose hair
Sure, you smoked the Spanish from their fancy lair
But you really gave yourself a pat on the back

LIFE H

• REPEAT AFTER MOI. Rote learning, a memorization technique based on repetition, is one of the easiest ways to remember info (Hey, it worked for Dory in Finding Nemo. "P. Sherman, 42 Wallaby Way, Sydney," remember?). If you're tired of reciting a list or hearing yourself rehearse lines for a play, change it up by singing it out loud. Didn't you learn the alphabet by singing to the tune of "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star"?

• PHOTOGRAPHIC MEMORY. You're lucky if you have a photographic memory! For those who have a difficult time recalling a person's name or an address, try visualizing the info by associating it with something unique. Say you met someone named Sandy or Dory, picture her head turning into an IG photo of a beach. Next time you see her, you'll easily remember her name because your brain recalls the vivid image more effectively.

• METHOD OF LOCI. The method of wut? It's a technique used by ancient Greeks wherein you mentally place a word or phrase along a recognizable track or road. So if you need to memorize a shopping list, recall a familiar path in your head, then picture the items along that path. Imagine toilet paper strewn all over your living room, lobsters on the kitchen sink, bacon strips dancing on the dining table, and so on and so forth. The crazier and sillier the images, the easier you will recall all the items on your list!

• THE ART OF CHUNKING. Your crush agrees to give you her cellphone number but you don't have a pen to write it down. Oh, the horror! Relaaax. Remember a long list of numbers by breaking them down into chunks: 0908-187-5243 (P.S. It's not a real number, dude, so don't even bother!).

MIND BLOWN!

Fire up those neurons!

• EAT RIGHT AND DRINK LOTSA WATER! Our neurons need essential nutrients and antioxidants to protect them from damage. Superfoods like blueberries, spinach, and other leafy greens are full of these good stuff, so eat as much as you can, bro.

• STAY PHYSICALLY AND MENTALLY FIT. Not only does being active increase blood flow to your whole body, it also enlarges your brain's hippocampus, the part of the brain where memories are formed, organized, and stored.

MEMORY UPGRADE EDITION

GOTTA HAVE YOUR WITS ABOUT YOU, BRUH! IT'S A MODERN JUNGLE OUT THERE, AND YOU NEED TO KEEP YOUR BRAIN IN TIP-TOP SHAPE.

- ACROSTICS ACROBATICS. My Very Eager Mother Just Sent Us Noodles is a good example of an acrostic, a poem that uses the first letter of words on a list or topic. Wanna easily remember the order of the planets in our solar system? Just remember this sentence. The first letter of each word gives you a clue to the correct order: Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, and Neptune. Easy peasy, right?

- ACCIO ACRONYMS. Meet Roy G. Biv. He'll help you remember the colors of the rainbow: Red, Orange, Yellow, Green, Blue, Indigo, and Violet. BTW, he loves playing FNAF. (OMG, BFF alert!)

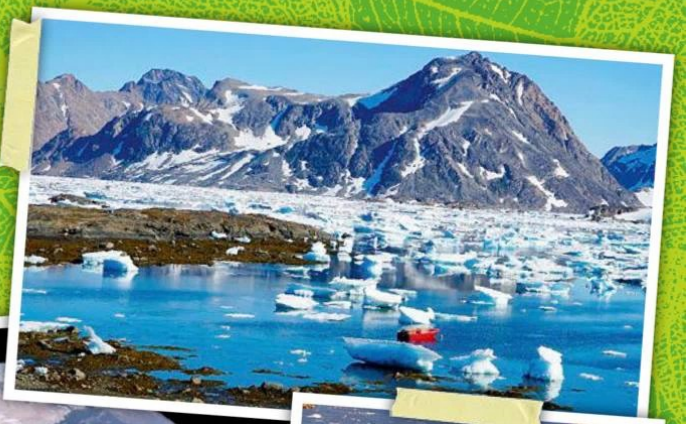
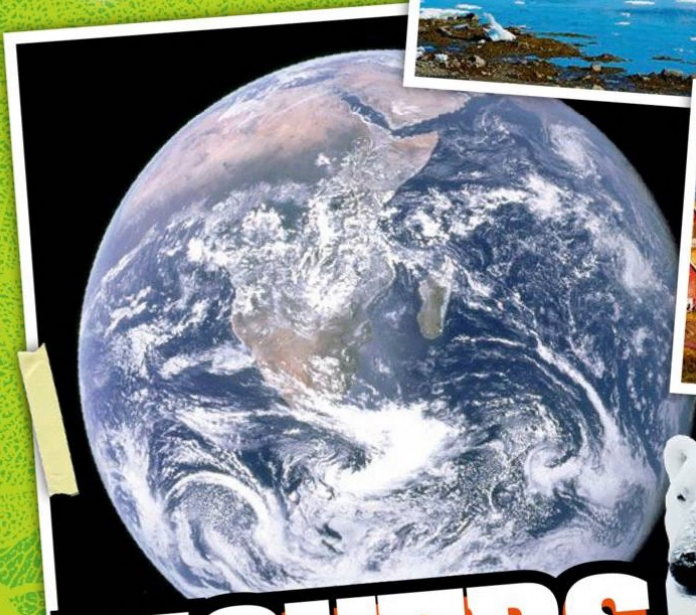
- RHYMES TIMES MIMES. Basic information said in a rhyme saves time (yep, still rhyming). "Thirty days hath September, April, June, and November" is a shortcut to remembering the months of the year with only 30 days.

- CHALLENGE ACCEPTED! Learning something new like a song, language, or skill exercises your brain and helps you become smarter.

- SWEET DREAMS, FAM! After performing all those mental gymnastics, catch up on some Z's in order to recharge your batteries.





MOVERS AND SHAKERS

A recent study by NASA shows that global warming is affecting the way our li'l blue planet turns on its polar axis. The melting ice sheets in Greenland are throwing the Earth's weight distribution off, meaning the Earth's poles are being pushed to the east! What does this mean for us Earthlings? Well, scientists say the polar shift is harmless, but it does say loads about how this man-made disaster affects the world.

QUAKE! RUN FOR COVER!

A 6.6-magnitude earthquake rocked Afghanistan on April 10 this year. It was strong enough to be felt in some cities in Pakistan and India. Safety tip: If there's an earthquake while you're inside a building, leave and find a clear, spacious area without any trees or other structures. If that's not an option, then duck, go under a sturdy table, and hold its legs down. Be careful, bros!

BOTTLED...AIR?

Looks like the predictions made in The Lorax are coming true: bottled air is now a real thing—and no, we're not referring to those oxygen tanks in hospitals. Vitality Air, a company from Canada, has started selling bottled oxygen to China, where air pollution is a serious prob. A three-liter bottle of air which was collected from the Banff National Park in Canada costs $20 (around P920). Eeep! Time to plant some trees so you can inhale free, fresh air, peeps!

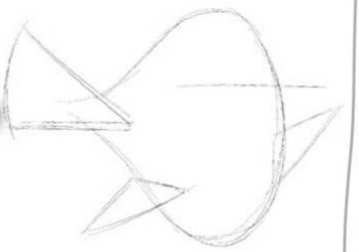
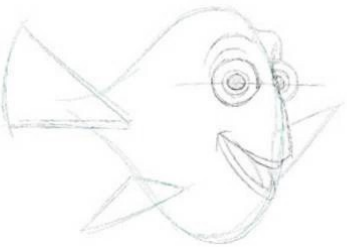
QUICK DRAW

HOW TO DRAW DORY



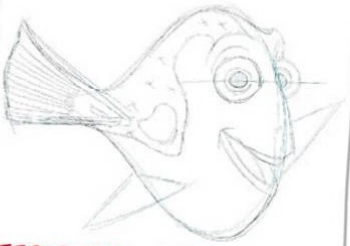


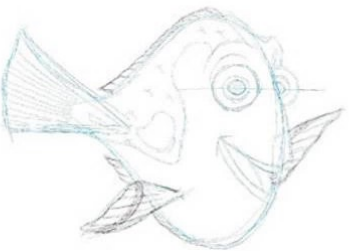
STEP 1: GO FISH

Lightly sketch the form of Dory using a pencil. Draw a teardrop shape for her body then add triangles for her fins and tail. Add a horizontal line on her head to mark the eye line.

STEP 2: I SEA YOU!

Draw three circles along the horizontal line for her right eye and three semi-circles for her left eye. Sketch her mouth using a long, curved line and draw shorter curved lines inside for her teeth and tongue.





STEP 3: TAIL AWAY

Add details to Dory's tail using slightly curved diagonal lines. Sketch the outline of her body. Draw her markings by sketching an inverted number two from the top of her right eye to the bottom of her tail fin. Inside the inverted two shape, draw a heart for her blue spot. Mark the black parts of her body with X's just like in the example above.

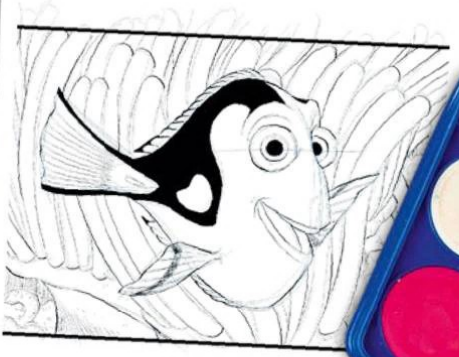
STEP 4: ARE YOU FINNIN' GOOD?

Add details to Dory's fins by sketching long and short lines on it.

*Artist based his drawing on the character from Finding Dory

STEP 5: AMNEMONEMOMNE

Draw the sea anemone behind Dory by making long, rounded tubes. Draw rough club shapes around the sea anemone to make corals.



STEP 6: READY TO SWIM

Trace over all your pencil marks using a pen. Once the ink has completely dried, erase all your pencil marks and add color. Most of Dory's body is blue, while the rear and upper portion of her body is black. Her fins have different shades of yellow, black, and blue, while her eyes are white, magenta, and black. Use different combinations of color for the sea anemone and the corals to add more punch to your art. Just keep swimming, Dory!

ANINOTRON

ANINOTRON is the ultimate form of all the ANINOBOTS combined—Anino, Dilim, Karo, Sin-Dakk, and Kadena. The photon energy emanating from these ANINOBOTS is the source of ANINOTRON's power. His logic circuits are strategically located inside a storage pod on his head, which is surrounded by flaming toxic fumes.

ROBOT MODE

- A life-giving toxic splat is located on ANINOTRON's chest plate.
- His shoulder-mounted cannon can shoot powerful photon beams.
- SIN-DAKK's toxic propellers are launched from his right hand.
- KADENA's windshield doubles as a lethal claw.

MEET THE BOSS

KZ GOT TO CHAT WITH THE OPAL SQUAD, THE GAME DEV OF THE UPCOMING RPG, MEDIOCRE MONSTER.

KZ: How did you guys come up with Mediocre Monster and why did you choose a monster to be the game's protagonist?
OS: We're big fans of Pixar. Mediocre Monster's concept is a mash-up of two Pixar movies: Wreck-it-Ralph and Monsters, Inc. Wreck-it-Ralph gave us a world where video game characters had lives beyond the arcade screens, while Monsters, Inc. gave us monsters who have very interesting jobs. We combined the two and came up with a vgame where you play as a villain and losing is the objective.

KZ: Aside from Gob the Goblin, can you name other monsters that are in the game?
OS: Gob is able to recruit other monsters to fight and "die" alongside him during battle with the heroes. Among these are a slime creature, an abominable snowman, and a few more!

KZ: If each Opal Squad member were to become a monster, what kind would each be and why?
OS: Gino is a very calm, happy-go-lucky person, so he imagines himself to be a slime creature, always bouncing and sporting a smile on his face. Jeric likes being popular, so he wants to be Pikachu, the most recognizable monster in video games. Rock has trouble sleeping at night, so he's prolly a vampire.

KZ: What are some of your fave vgames?
OS: We're very big gamers. We have A LOT of faves. These include Super Mario Bros. 3, Harvest Moon, Final Fantasy 6 to 8, Dota 2, NBA 2K series, and Plants vs. Zombies.

KZ: Since you guys put a spin to the traditional RPG game, what video game mash-up would you guys want to see in the future?
OS: Nintendo versus Sony versus Microsoft versus Mobile Games Smash Bros. FTW!

Are ya still feeling all the Force feels over The Force Awakens? Star Wars: Episode 8 and Rogue One may be months away, young padawan, but you can get your fill of Jedi awesomeness by playing LEGO Star Wars: The Force Awakens. With expanded storylines, new gameplay modes, and tons of playable characters, it's gonna feel like you never left that galaxy far, far away. So what are ya waiting for? Get your grubby paws on this game, stat. (Last one to play is a rotten moof milker!)

CHEWIE, WE'RE HOME!

Dive into the vgame's expanded universe.

Aside from replaying TFA's scenes in brick form, you'll also play through missions that take place before the movie's events. Gamers will discover what happened to C-3PO's arm, Lor San Tekka's background, and how Han and Chewie battled the Rathtar.

MASTER BUILDER
Brick-out over the Multi-Build!

The Multi-Build function allows players to create many different structures using the same pile of LEGO bricks (just like IRL). Because of that, there's more than one way of solving puzzles. Example: Baddies are blocking your way. What do you do?

A. Build a Spider Droid to blast the baddies
B. Build a giant popcorn machine to distract your foes

Heck, you can even smash your creation and rebuild it into something else. Sky's the limit! Talk about major replay value.

SHOOT FOR THE STARS
Brace yourselves for some pew-pew-pew action.

Listen up, nerf herders! LEGO SW devs Traveller's Tales added a new fighting mechanic called Blaster Battle. In this gameplay mode, you're forced to take cover and have a sick shootout against the First Order's Stormtrooper army. Can't take the heat? Then summon some friendly droids to back you up and help build turrets in the battlefield. Lock and load!

FLIGHT IS MIGHT
Fly higher than ever before using classic SW ships!

In certain missions in LEGO SW: TFA, you'll be caught in an intergalactic dogfight and you must use your leet piloting skills, a la Poe Dameron, in order to escape an aerial ambush. You'll pilot schweet space rides like the TIE fighter, the X-Wing, and even the Millennium Falcon (A.K.A. Rey's "Garbage"). Plus, with the vgame's updated gameplay, there's even more galaxy to explore.

TRAILER TROLLING
The game recreates The Force Awakens cinematic trailer scene-by-scene, throwing some slapstick humor into the mix.

Poe Dameron makes some toast in his ship.

"There has been an awakening in the Force." Cue Finn's alarm clock ringing and waking him up.

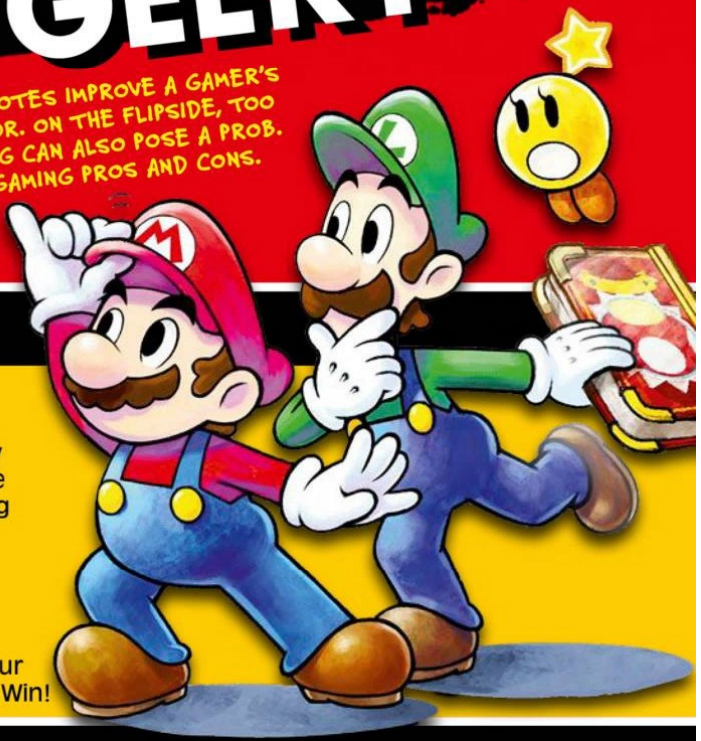
THE GOOD, THE BAD, AND THE GEEKY

PLAYING VGAMES CAN TOTES IMPROVE A GAMER'S THINKING AND BEHAVIOR. ON THE FLIPSIDE, TOO MUCH BUTTON-MASHING CAN ALSO POSE A PROB. LET'S TALK ABOUT GAMING PROS AND CONS.



THE GOOD

PROMOTES TEAMWORK: A Texas Tech University study links cooperative vgames with improving one's social behavior. #FriendshipIsMagic

BOOSTS BRAIN POWER: Puzzle games can improve your problem-solving skills. Win!

THE BAD

UNLEASHES THE AGGRO: Playing vgames may also cause low-impulse control (A.K.A. #zerochill).

VGAME ADDICTION DISTRACTION: Forgetting RL chores because you're too focused on your vgames.

THE GEEKY

These kickbutt gamer gals tell it like it is!

DRE

White Widget CEO (A.K.A. Face Mountain gaming app devs)

HOW CAN PLAYING VGAMES HELP KIDS?

"Video games can be an important socialization tool. Connecting with your peers online can kickstart lasting friendships. Many games guide you through complex decision-making, risk taking, planning, forward thinking—these skills are all incredibly important. Plus, they're just plain fun, and playing helps you take care of stress! Mobile games are easy for kids to pick up. My 3-year-old niece figured out how to play our game, Face Mountain. We've also worked on game concepts that can teach kids a new language."

WHAT ARE THE NEGATIVE EFFECTS OF GAMING?

"Video games can be incredibly addictive. Kids should not be exposed to adult games. Ever. They should also form solid real-world activities and friendships."

ANY ADVICE FOR KZ GAMERS?

"If a game is challenging and you enjoy it, then play. But like everything else in life, don't overdo it! And while you're at it, why not find out how your fave game was made so one day, you can make your own vgame, too!

PATHRA

Hearthstone: Heroes of Warcraft Twitch streamer/caster

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF PLAYING AN ONLINE TCG LIKE HEARTHSTONE?

"In Hearthstone, you have to think and plan your succeeding turns. The game teaches players how to make quick decisions within a limited time frame. I think this is good practice for everyday life decisions that kids may have."

WHAT'S THE DOWNSIDE OF GAMING?

"The negative effects [of gaming appear] when you don't know when to stop. Allow your eyes and body [to rest]. It's never good to sit in front of a computer for hours on end because it can be bad for your back and eyesight."

PERSONALLY, HOW DID PLAYING VGAMES HELP YOU?

"Games like Hearthstone made me more competitive in a good way. It has given me the drive to become a better player and accomplish achievements in the game."

How can I defeat Moon Lord, Terraria's final boss, on Expert Mode?

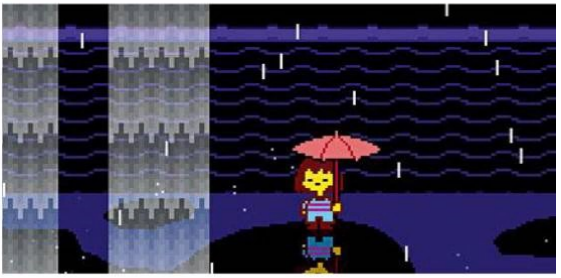
Aim your attacks at Moon Lord's hands and do it until they're weakened. Next, focus on alternately hitting his head and hands. This strategy will increase your chances of surviving the first half of the battle. Pro tip: Hide behind the walls to avoid ML's laser blasts. His attacks cannot penetrate the barrier, so keep that in mind before brawling with ML. Make sure to put a lot of walls in your arena, son!

TIP TRIP

Hit the pause button! K-Zoner Khalid Epping has a tip for you Bravely Default players.

Upon reaching the section in the game where you're tasked to awaken the Crystals, a dialogue box for Airy will pop up, telling you to stop pressing the X-button. Do not follow Airy's advice and continue pressing the button. Following her will send you to a parallel dimension where you have to awaken the Crystals once again. No one wants that, right?

READER REVIEW



Andrea Perez shares why she's determined to make you play Undertale!

GAMEPLAY
"In Undertale, you're a kid who accidentally discovers an underground lair filled with monsters. You explore the world RPG-stylez and your actions affect the game's ending."

GRAPHICS
"These characters look like they're from old-school, retro 8-bit games."

REPLAY
"There are several endings that you can get in the game. You gotta finish the game at least twice to unlock the true ending."

SOUND
"These schweet tunes are a mix of 8-bit sounds and modern instrumentals. You can clearly hear the piano, guitar, and drums!"

OVERALL
"The game is entertaining 'coz there are tons of surprises in store for you and multiple endings to play through."

DYK? In Undertale, you can still buy hotdogs from Sans even if your inventory is already full. He'll stack 29 hotdogs on your avatar's head. LOL!

PRANK

THE KEY TO A GOOD PRANK

Detach the keys from a computer keyboard with the help of an adult and click them back in different places. Watch the next user freak out when they start typing, only to find random gibberish appearing on the screen. (Be careful not to actually break anything, yo!)

DISCLAIMER

Pranks have a nasty habit of going wrong, so be careful when you try to pull 'em off, and don't blame us if you end up getting grounded for a month.

SINKING FEELING

Grab a box of cereal, open it, and pour some grains into the sink. Then, pour a small amount of milk and wait for the next person who'll use the sink to see it and be totally confused. JUST KEEP SWIMMING!

DON'T WORRY BROS! LIFE IS AN OCEAN OF EMBARRASSMENT!

My cousins and I were enjoying a night stroll at the park when I noticed that it was getting late. So we raced back to our grandpa, who was sitting on one of the benches. It was dark, so I could barely see where I was going, but I was the first one to reach him. I held grandpa's hand and proudly declared myself the winner of the race. And then I realized he wasn't our grandpa after all! Oops!

GWENETH CANASTA

While I was at a restaurant with my family, my mom asked me to get some water, so I went to the drinks station and filled up a cup. In my rush to return to our table, I spilled water on the floor but ignored it 'coz I wanted to sit down already. When we finished filling up our plates, I slipped on the puddle of water and fell on my butt! Good thing I had a good grip on the plate and didn't drop my food.

EVE DENISE LILIA

I was playing Hide and Seek with my relatives. I hid under the table just as the seeker finished counting. I felt so nervous when he got close to my hiding place that I farted!

SELENA REYES

While I was having dinner with my fambam, my chair broke, causing me to faceplant on my gravy-filled plate! The fam still LOL about that incident. UGH!

AIDAN ACEBEDO

My teacher asked me to go in front of the class. My shoe got caught on a table leg as I was walking and I tripped. There was a moment of silence before the class erupted into roars of laughter. I was sooo embarrassed!

EJ SANTOS

My cousin and I were left alone in the house when suddenly, we heard a strange noise. Frightened, we decided to investigate where the sound was coming from. When we opened one of the closets, my cousin's older brother jumped out to surprise us. Talk about embarrassing!
